ONLINE/DIGITAL ADVERTISING

Truckandbus.net.au was developed more than seven years ago to offer readers of both Transport and Trucking Australia and Coach & Bus magazine an added platform for the latest breaking news as well as showcasing editorial coverage past and present.

With our up to the minute news coverage on both the Truck and Bus industries we keep readers and industry professionals up to date with what is happening.

We tailor advertising solutions across all of our media platforms, print, digital and online.

With our in house video editing department we are also able to provide advertisers with video imagery and tailor made productions very cost effectively to represent their brand both on our website and their own digital platforms.

We also offer an in house editing and video making service to our customers.

News and press releases are uploaded daily in order to keep readers informed of all events, big and small affecting the truck and bus industries.

In this way we can ensure up to the minute news items appear in real time on our website and also leave extra space within the publications to provide readers with more in depth coverage on less time sensitive features.
